Greetings! We are delighted to present our latest newsletter and share some exciting news with you. We are thrilled to announce the 9th International Symposium on Resilience Research \(#resilience2023\), which will take place in Mainz, Germany, from 27 to 29 September 2023.

The symposium receives co-funding from DynaMORE, an international research project with the mission to enhance stress resilience and foster better mental health and well-being amidst challenging circumstances. The project is led by Prof. Dr. Raffael Kalisch, affiliated with the Leibniz Institute for Resilience Research (LIR), and supported by the European Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation Programme.

If you are receiving this newsletter as a forwarded message but would like to actively subscribe to receive exclusive DynaMORE-specific news, we invite you to enter your email address here. Thank you for your continued interest and support!

Abstract & Registration Deadline: 31 July

Don't miss this opportunity: The deadline for submitting abstracts to present your work during one of the #resilience2023 poster sessions is approaching fast. Register & submit your abstract now before the deadline on Monday, 31st July!

---

Register now

The 9th International Symposium on Resilience Research \(#resilience2023\) will be held in Mainz, Germany, as an in-person event from 27 to 29 September 2023.

This event encompasses the most recent advancements and discoveries in stress resilience research, both in animal models and in human studies. Since its inception in 2015, the symposium has been the most important gathering of the international research community and has shaped the field and initiated many important debates. This year's program will center around discussions on operationalizing and measuring resilience, as well as sharing updates from significant international consortia and large-scale cohort studies.

The registration remains open until Monday, 31 July 2023. The organising team keenly anticipates hosting the symposium and warmly welcoming the resilience research community in person once more!

Registration Fee

€230 for PIs and senior researchers

€120 for students and postdocs

Important: Fees are waived for LIR employees, members of the intresa young researchers network, and speakers. However, registration is mandatory for all attendants.

Location of symposium

INTRESA BUSINESS MEETING

10:00 Intresa business meeting (non-public)

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM

13:00 Welcome

SESSION 1: NAILING IT DOWN: THE MEASUREMENT OF RESILIENCE IN LONGITUDINAL STUDIES

- 13:15 Frank Infurna, Arizona State University
Proceed with caution when using growth mixture modeling for studying resilience: How we have over-estimated the human capacity to exhibit resilience following major life stressors
- 14:00 Sarah Lowe, Yale School of Public Health
Our models and the real world: The socio-ecological context of resilience research
- 14:45 Raffael Kalisch, LIR
No resilience without stressors: The importance of controlling for individual stressor exposure
- 15:30 COFFEE
- 16:00 Göran Köber, University Medical Center Freiburg & DynaMORE project
An adaptive resilience quantification: Flexible individualized deep dynamic models utilizing differentiable programming
- 16:30 EARLY-CAREER SCIENTIST SHORT TALKS
Selected poster abstracts
- 17:30 POSTER SESSION
19:00 With snacks
- 20:00 SPEAKERS' DINNER
Speakers' dinner (non-public)

SESSION 2: COMPUTATIONAL APPROACHES TO RESILIENCE: FROM DOPAMINE TO PREDICTION

- 9:00 Erin Calipari, Department of Pharmacology, Vanderbilt University
Dopamine release in the nucleus accumbens signals salience to drive adaptive behavior in response to stimuli across contexts
- 9:45 Anneget Falkner, Princeton Neuroscience Institute, Princeton University
Behavioral and dopaminergic signatures of resilience
- 10:30 COFFEE
- 11:00 Quentin Huys, Applied Computational Psychiatry Lab, University College London
Computational characterization of psychotherapeutic mechanisms
- 11:45 EARLY-CAREER SCIENTIST SHORT TALKS
Selected poster abstracts
- 12:30 POSTER SESSION
With lunch
- 14:15 Claire Gillan, Trinity College Dublin
Predicting response to internet-delivered interventions

SESSION 3: HOW ARE THEY DOING IT? METHODOLOGICAL APPROACHES AND FINDINGS FROM INTERNATIONAL CONSORTIA

- 15:00 Jennifer Stevens, Emory University; Atlanta Veteran's Affairs Health Care System & AURORA study
Surprising tradeoffs in neural systems contributing to trauma resilience
- 15:45 COFFEE
- 16:15 Roberto Mediavilla, Universidad Autónoma de Madrid & Papoula Petri-Romão, LIR & RESPOND project
A stepped-care program to foster resilience: outcomes and mechanisms
- 16:45 Robin M. Murray, King's College London & EU-GEI study
Risk and resilience factors in psychosis
- 18:30 SOCIAL
Some fun

SESSION 3 CONTINUED: HOW ARE THEY DOING IT? METHODOLOGICAL APPROACHES AND FINDINGS FROM INTERNATIONAL CONSORTIA

- 9:30 Adam Maihofer, Department of Psychiatry, University of California at San Diego & Psychiatric Genomics Consortium (PTSD group)
Genomic predictors of PTSD risk and resilience
- 10:15 Jutta Winterling, LIR & RESPOND project
Individual participant data meta-analyses of mental health and resilience in the COVID pandemic
- 10:45 COFFEE
- 11:15 Christiaan Vinkers, Department of Psychiatry, Amsterdam UMC
Vulnerability and resilience following childhood trauma: an overview of psychological, biological and environmental mechanisms
- 12:00 POSTER AWARD CEREMONY
Conclusions and Farewell
- 12:15 LUNCH
Lunch

Early-career scientists sessions

We highly encourage early-career scientists (ECS) to participate. The ECS programme includes engaging poster sessions, short talks, and a chance to compete for the poster award. More information can be found in the details below:

Poster Sessions

All attendees are invited to submit poster abstracts (max. 300 words; please give a full author list and affiliations) to corinna.lindermann.ext@lir-mainz.de. Accepted abstracts will be published in a printed booklet that will be distributed to attendees during the event. Please note that no electronic versions of abstracts or posters will be provided. The deadline for submission is 31 July 2023.

ECS Short Talks

Abstracts by early-career scientists (undergraduate, PhD, or postdoctoral students) are eligible for consideration for selected short talks. If you wish to be considered, please indicate your career stage when you submit your abstract. Speakers selected for short talks will be reimbursed for their travel expenses and the symposium fee. Applicants will be informed of the decision by 1 September 2023.

Poster Award

The best poster will receive a €300 poster award.
